Renewal Applications and Section 8 Affidavits

There has been a noticeable increase in the number of petitions requesting provisional acceptance of defectively executed Section 8 Affidavits and Renewal Applications under 35 U.S.C. §26, the most common problem being a lack of notarization or a Rule 2.20 declaration. Often, such petitions are necessitated by the failure of registration owners to file the documents early enough to leave time in which to correshould they prove defective.

Section 8 Affidavits may be filed beginning with the fifth anniversary of the registration. The period for filing expires on the sixth anniversary of the registration. The period for filing Renewal Applications begins six months before the twentieth anniversary of the registration and extends three months beyond the expiration of the twenty year term. While the Post Registration Division may allow up to six months to respond to a notice of defect, it may not allow corrective action beyond the period for filing established by the Trademark Act. It is therefore in the registrant's best interest to file such documents as close to the opening date as possible to allow time for correction, if necessary. Provisional acceptance under 35 U.S.C. §26 has been, and will continue to be, given narrow application. Registrants should not rely on 35 U.S.C. §26 as a means of acquiring an extension of time.

We have also become aware of many delays caused by defects in the chain of title. Registrants are encouraged to keep Patent and Trademark Office assignment records current with regard to ownership of registrations.

The filing of Post Registration documents at the earliest date and maintenance of assignment records will help to avoid the cancellation or expiration of registrations of trademarks currently in use, and will result in a savings of time and expense for both the registrant and the Patent and Trademark Office.

Policy Regarding Exchange Agreements Under the Authority of 35 USC Section 6(a)

Background

The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO), by virtue of Section 6(a) of Title 35, United States Code, is empowered to enter into exchange agreements with other organizations to further the use of patent and trademark information, and to facilitate the use and availability of that information. In recognition of these objectives, the PTO establishes the following guidelines and principles which shall apply when evaluating and entering into exchange agreements with other public, private, domestic and foreign agencies, firms and companies.

Nature of Exchange Agreements

Exchange agreements by the PTO will generally be for the purpose of (1) acquiring goods and services which will assist the PTO in accomplishing its mission and achieving its goals; (2) reducing the cost to the government of processing activities associated with the examination of applications for patent and trademark registration; (3) fostering the dissemination of information contained in patent and trademark documents; and (4) furthering the general goal of automating patent and trademark examination processes.

In exchange agreements, the PTO and the industrial or commercial concerns will share in the cost and risks of the endeavor. Terms and conditions of each agreement, including the business arrangements, are negotiable within the limits of prevailing statutes and regulations and will be commensurate with the risks, involvement, and investment of the parties to the agreements. The PTO's intent is to offer as much latitude as practical in the agreement.

Each agreement will be negotiated on a case-by-case basis. Agreements will vary in size, complexity, scope and the nature of the materials, services, and/or products being exchanged by the parties. All exchange agreements will be subject to the availability of funds.

Incentives

Incentives provided by the PTO for the purpose of entering into exchange agreements may include, but are not limited to (1) providing copies of PTO documents; (2) providing computer processable data obtained from patents, trademark applications, trademark registrations, and other data sources developed by the PTO; (3) providing government furnished equipment necessary for the other party to fulfill the agreement; and (4) entering into joint programs where each party funds its own participation.

Considerations

The factors to be considered by the PTO prior to entering into an exchange agreement or providing incentives shall include, but will not be limited to the following considerations: (1) public or social need for the product(s) of the agreement; (2) enhanced dissemination of technological information; (3) benefits accruing to the public or the U.S. Government from the endeavor; (4) the desirability of private sector involvement in PTO programs; (5) the merit of the research, development or application proposed; (6) the degree of risk and financial participation by the other party; (7) the amount of proprietary data or other information to be furnished by the concern; (8) the rights in data to be granted to the PTO and the concern as a result of their contributions; (9) the willingness and ability of the concern to market and sell any resulting new or enhanced products on a reasonable basis; and (10) the impact of PTO sponsorship upon a given industry or area of commercial endeavor.

Administration

The Administrator for Automation is delegated the authority to enter into negotiations. The Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks will approve exchange agreements on behalf of the PTO. Before proceeding into comprehensive evaluation of a joint endeavor, a preliminary assessment will be made of the merits of the offer. Exchange agreement proposals which are too sketchy or ill-defined to (1) establish the merit in the basic idea, (2) establish that the proposal is in accordance with PTO program objectives, or (3) establish that the proposing organization is willing to make significant contribution to the endeavor, will not be evaluated in depth and will be treated as correspondence or advertising. This preliminary assessment will be conducted by the Administrator for Automation or his or her designee to determine if the proposal warrants further consideration. If this determination is positive and if the parties agree to proceed with a joint endeavor, the Administrator for Automation will enter into detailed discussions and negotiations with the offeror regarding the technical and business aspects of the offer. Upon reaching a mutually satisfactory arrangement, the agreement will be submitted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks for approval. Administration of the exchange agreement program will be performed by the Administrator for Automation.

Due to resource limitations and the necessity for diversity in the program, only one offer will normally be accepted for a given PTO incentive. If substantially similar offers are received within any 45-day period, they will be evaluated and/or negotiated together. The offer which provides the best total consideration for the Government will be accepted. Special consideration shall be given to small and minority businesses, as appropriate.

May 3, 1983. Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

IMPROVEMENTS TO SERVICES

- Patents Granted —Fiscal Year 1983 —The number of utility patents granted weekly for the issues of Feb. 22 through May 3, 1983, will average approximately 715 per week. The number will increase to about 1,000 in mid-May and to 1,330 by mid-Sept. These fluctuations are related to the adaptation of new examiners to their workloads. For fiscal year 1983, ending with the issue of Sept. 27, 1983, the Office plans to grant approximately 56,400 utility patents.
- Photocopy Services — TS Infosystems, Inc., the contractor for providing photocopying services, has instituted a new procedure for improving control of the CopiShare cards. New cards will be issued to users when they request additional dollars be added to current cards. At that time, TSI will document new card number, customer's name and Search Room badge number for audit trail and assistance in returning lost/found cards.
- Microfilming Active Trademark and Patent File Histories —We are currently finalizing a work statement to procure contractor services in support of this project. We expect to award this contract during Oct. 1983. By Dec. 1983, microfiche copies of new patent and trademark issues will be available to public search room users. We will also provide viewing and paper reproduction capabilities. During this summer, we will be providing sample microfiche and equipment for public search room users. At that time and through the initial phases of this project, we will closely monitor and evaluate film quality and equipment capabilities.
- Disposal of Patented Files —The Office is working with the National Archives to plan the disposal of patented application files which were issued during the period 1921–1946. Any suggestions pertaining to disposal of these files would be welcomed. You may write Wes Gewehr, CP-311C34, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231.
